PROMINENT ARCHITECT

Cabriel de Sibour, was seventy-nine years old.

Old or many years the dowager countess had been a promisent and indiaental nember of the sectety of the Capital. Of recent years she had not gone out a great deal. Except for attendance upon the Charity Ball, to which she went every year, she had attended few social gatheriags for some time. But her home at 307 Farragut Square was the center of the inner circle of society, and Countess de Sibour often entertained there. She was one of the grande dames of the Capital. Of wonderfully attractive personality, clever, gracious, and charming, the diwager countess was a notable figure in the Capital. Before her marriage Countess de Sibour was Mary L. Johnson. She is survived by two sona, Vinomis Jules Henri de Sibour, the architect, who lives at 1953 K Street Northwest, and Comte de Sibour, of Paria.

The funeral will take place at 10:50 cicox this morning from the residence of Viconte de Sibour.

Mud Nearly Causes Death. Mud Nearly Causes Death.

Stuck in mud that gave way beneath him like quicksand, Thomas Parker, a fisherman of Fowlers Hill, was saved yesterday from drowning in the Potomac above the Three Sister Islands by a party of campers, who were passing in a cance. Barker was hauling a seine of minows across a mud bar when he stuck. His cries for help brought the campers. Taking a long pole from Barker's boat, anchored nearby, the men in the cance dragged the man from the mud. He was removed to Georgetown Haspital.

More Than Was Coming to Him.

The authorities of Mount Rainier, Md., the town of recalls, contempt proceedings, and perpetual strife, bear the repitation of being the most lenient and a commodating town officials in the entire county.

Every effort is made to suit the convenience of the prisoner in cases of arrest, and the Town Council has gone so far as to pay the fine of a colored offender in order to save the community is the expense of jailing him. It is not infrequently that when fines are imposed, provisions are made for payment upon the installment plan-25 or 34 down, and 50 cents a week.

ZING-ZING

I AM

Refreshes Tired Feet - Soothes Tender Feet - Heals Sore Feet Keep Zing-Zing in your home. Every time your feet perspire over-freely, or ache, or are terribly tired, or have sores or callouses where shoes and stockings rub and irritate painfully, get out Zing-Zing. Then you'll realize what wonderful relief there is for tired, aching, sore feet in every tablet. Each tablet is concentrated happiness for troubled feet—first aid for foot troubles. USE ZING-ZING IN HOT WATER

Get out a big bowl or pail of hot water—just as hot as you can stand it comfortably. Drop in three tablets of Zing-Zing—let it dissolve—let it diffuse in the hot water—stir it around and wiggle your toes in it. Let it soak into every tired, aching pore. Revel in it. Lay back and dream—because Zing-Zing brings paradise to feet.

Too business men-tramping all day feeling and tired, haggard look, Quit ver hard pavements—you must find out the wonders of Zing-Zing at one ou can freshen up like a boy for an vening's outing after a hard day the like a poy for an vening's outing after a hard day the like a poy for an vening's outing after a hard day the like a poy for an vening's outing after a hard day the person of the like a poy for an vening's out of the like a poy for an vening's out of the like a poy for an vening and doubled up with ugly corns and bourself in that pail of hot water impressing will save you hundreds of aches the pain and its pleasure come with the plant of the pleasure come with the plant of the plant of the plant up the plant of the plant of the plant up the plant of the plant o
